

TWO INDICTED
IN CONNECTION WITH ESCAPE TRIAL

Indictments returned against two Winchester prisoners for helping in attempt to escape.

Winchester, Ky., Dec. 5.—Isaac Miller, of Fayette county, serving a three month sentence in Clark county jail for alleged violation of the prohibition laws, and O. M. Morgan, of Carlisle, were indicted by the grand jury here today, charged with aiding and abetting an alleged attempt of Scoles Hardman and John Schumaker to escape from the jail last month ago.

Hardman is held without bail under an indictment charging him with the murder of Leon Reneker, bluegrass "turkey king" hero last July, and Schumaker is under a life sentence for the alleged killing of his father, a Clark county farmer.

Morgan was arrested November 11, charged with smuggling duplicate keys to the jail into Hardman's cell, and has been at liberty on $1,000 bail furnished by Hardman's father. He asserts that he was employed by the Hardman family to investigate facts surrounding the Reneker murder, for which Hardman and Reese Fox, charged in connection with the killing and Mrs. Nancy Catherine Reneker, the widow, indicted for alleged conspiracy, will go on trial Monday.

Officers alleged they have established that "Ike" Miller made impression of five inside and outside jail keys when allowed on several occasions to answer long distance telephone calls in one of the rooms of Jailer Carroll Ashill when the jailer was out of town. Mrs. Ashill gave the prisoner access to the rooms, it is said, as Mrs. Miller called him frequently, about the time that unknown persons on two successive nights fired several shots near the Miller home in Fayette county, where Mrs. Miller was living.

Separate indictments found charge Miller and Morgan each with personally aiding and abetting Scoles Hardman and John Schumaker in an attempt to escape.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED ON PASTOR'S DEATH

Official Board of Christian Church Adopts Resolutions Upon the Death of Pastor Mullin.

The following resolutions were adopted by the official board of the Christian church:

Inasmuch as it has pleased God, in His infinite wisdom, to say to one of His faithful servants, "Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord," therefore, he is

Resolved, That in the death of Rev. John Mullin, our church has lost a beloved and faithful pastor, who endeavored by his earnest and able preaching as well as by his own Christian life, to make the Word fruitful in the lives of those with whom he came in contact. His place will be indeed difficult to fill;

That, our community has lost a citizen whose every act was an influence for good, and who was always on the side of moral growth and civic betterment;

That, the Brotherhood of the Disciples of Christ has lost a strong and forceful speaker and an efficient minister who was still at the height of his usefulness;

And he it further resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of the meeting of this board, one sent to the bereaved family, and that one be sent to the local papers.

The Surety of Purity

There are no miracles in cooking. What goes into the food must inevitably come out.

Even the baking perfection that results from the use of Royal Baking Powder is no miracle.

It is simply the result of absolute purity entering the food—and emerging again.

Royal is made from Cream of Tartar derived from grapes.

COMMENT

All attention is now turned to the Christmas shopping. While doing your shopping, don't forget the unfortunate poor of the city who will have no Christmas unless you and others like you remember them.

A poor man's wife was murdered in New York and before a week had elapsed the mystery was solved and the murderer arrested. A rich woman's husband was murdered months ago and all sorts of investigations were held but the "mystery" has not been solved.

The opening of the non-pooled tobacco market here Tuesday will distribute quite a neat sum of money in this section and will greatly help business conditions in Maysville. Christmas shopping should pick up because of this distribution of funds.

We notice that the usual supply of Christmas cigars and cabbage done up in pretty boxes have made their appearance on the market. Father should let mother and the girls know his favorite brand right now.

M. Clemenceau may be known in France as the "Tiger" but in America he will from now on be known as the "frank Frenchman."

News items in Tuesday's newspapers tell of the death of three and the serious, probably fatal injury, of three others by automobiles in the state of Ohio. In face of the continued increase in fatal automobile accidents traffic laws are made more lenient each year because there are more automobile owners each year among the law makers.

The cold wave should have its effect upon business. Merchants in this section have been needing a change in weather to stimulate business. The fall has been unseasonable and this not only makes business slow on seasonable merchandise but makes for bad health. Folks will feel better when we have some winter weather.

Local automobile agents say they will not take old cars in exchange on new models in the future which means that the junk man and the second hand man will do a good business in the future.

Our Daily Poem

AT NIGHT.

The children are nestled together.
The night is brooding and still,
Save when the wind through the bather
Wails drearily over the hill.

Have I, through the sun's golden hours
Made happy some comrade of mine,
With thoughts more fragrant than Flowers,

With words that were sweeter than wine?

The bairn is meet for reflection,
Abroad is the sad-bemoaning wind,
And I seek, through deep introspection
To know if today I've been kind.

On, Night thou ancient magician,
If cruel or cold I have been,
Give ear to my prayer of contrition,
Absolve my spirit from sin!

The children are nestled and sleeping,
And "Peace!" is the song of the wind;
"Peace unto all who are keeping
The law that bids us be kind!"

—Thomas Emmett Moore.

NEW FACTS ON MERCHANT MARINE.

It is not surprising that the President's address to Congress on the merchant marine received close attention and was accorded hearty applause, for the address presented a number of new viewpoints of the subject, which had hitherto received little or no consideration.

For instance, how many had considered the ship bill from this viewpoint? "I am not asking your authorization of a new and added draft on the Public Treasury; I am appealing for a program to diminish the burden we are already bearing." The President then went on to show that under Government operation the present merchant marine, with 2,250,000 tons active, is costing $50,000,000 over and above receipts to operate. The ship aid bill calls for $30,000,000 annually to be derived from customs duties.

How many had considered this factor? "We are wearing out our ships without any provision for replacement.... Only a few years of continued losses on capital account will make these losses through depreciation alone to exceed the fifty millions a year now drawn to cover losses in operation." That means the end of a marine for which the Democratic Administration soaked the American people more than $3,000,000,000.

How many had thought of these comparisons? "We have aided industry through our tariffs; we have aided railway transportation in land grants and loans; we have aided the construction of market roads and the improvement of inland waterways; we have aided reclamation and irrigation and the development of water power; we have loaned for seed grains in anticipation of harvests. We spend millions in investigation and experimentation to promote a common benefit, though a limited few are the direct beneficiaries. We have loaned hundreds of millions to promote the marketing of American goods." Why should we not establish and maintain American market highways on the seas? Shipping is our one unprotected industry.

How many knew this of the bill? "Though differing in detail, it is not more in proportion to their population and capacity than other great nations have done in aiding the establishment of their merchant marines. .... I hope it is seemly to say it, because it must be said, the maritime nations of the world as in complete accord with the opposition here to the pending measure." Foreigners would deliver our goods.

How many had given this a thought? "Congress has created by law conditions surrounding labor on American ships which shipping men the world over declare result in higher costs of operation under our flag. I frankly rejoice if higher standards of labor on American ships have been established. Merest justice suggests that when Congress fixes these standards it is fair to extend Government aid in maintaining them until world competition is brought to the same high level, or until our shipping lines are so firmly established that they can face world competition alone."

How many were aware that "the approximate sum of five millions annually paid for the transport of ocean mails is no new expenditure?" and that "the loan fund to encourage building is not new; it is the law already enacted by the essential unanimous vote of Congress? It is only included in the pending bill in order to amend so as to assure the exactation of a minimum interest rate by the Government, whereas the existing law leaves the grant of building loans to any whim of favoritism."

Here are six new ideas, and there were several more while the old ones still remain sound. The President's address added much to public understanding of the merchant marine problems.

WOULD IGNORE CONSTITUTION.

Exclaiming, "What's the Constitution among politicians?" Senator Caraway, Democrat, of Arkansas, has introduced a resolution declaring it to be the sense of the Senate that all members of both Houses defeated for reelection should abstain from voting during the remainder of their terms, and that chairmen of important committees not in sympathy with the results of the recent election should give way to other men. Of course the resolution will not be adopted, but it shows the radical trend of thought of some Democrats, and the unscrupulous means they would use to attain their ends if they could have their own way. The mere fact that hundreds of thousands of people would be deprived of representation in the ship subsidy debate and in other important pieces of legislature means nothing to such as Caraway.

Secretary Mellon is urging the banks to assist the people in converting their war savings stamps into Treasury Savings Certificates. The conversion may be made at par at any time even though the stamps do not mature until January 1st, next.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE WOMEN?

You're going to see one of the finest motion pictures ever made when you see "WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE WOMEN." Aside from its richness of production, aside from its wonderful cast which has never been equalled in any picture (see names below) you're going to see a picture that will hold you spellbound and that will give you an evening of the finest entertainment you ever enjoyed when you see Daniel Carson Goodman's amazing production, "WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE WOMEN?" Included in the cast are such brilliant stars as Wilton Lackaye, Mrs. De Wolf Hopper, Mrs. Oscar Hammerstein, Constance Bennett, Mistinguette Love, Julie Swayne Gordon, Barbara Castleton, Rod La Rocque, Paul McAlister, Huntley Gordon and that remarkable child actress Little Helen Rowland. We recommend this picture to you as one of the finest you will see this season.

Where can we find it—this bluebird of happiness, ever so elusive and always so hard to hold once we do grasp it tightly to our breasts. Jack Lee felt it was his for all time. In his little city home there was a wife to face the world with him, and with him to battle through to Success. There was a child who meant everything. And there was a home to keep—a prize well worth the struggle.

Almost before he knew it the change came. His wife was different; there was deception in her manner and in her vague excuses. She had become a bosom companion of an unscrupulous woman who lived across the hall. Mrs. Neer, she called herself, and she preached independence and freedom to the young wife. She brought a young millionaire into Mrs. Lee's life, and with him came midnight suppers, afternoon teas, and an extravagance that made Jack's existence a constant worry. The bluebird that he had captured was lost.

Jack was employed by James Bascom, a wealthy architect. Bascom also had puzzled about the modern woman. His daughter Elsie was the modern girl. Cigarettes, flasks, rouge, all night parties, and a love of luxury seemed to be her main purpose in life. The only other purpose was marriage—to enough money. She had chosen James Beldon, the same millionaire whose attentions to Mrs. Lee were now becoming insistent; spurning the love of a man who offered only a simple home and a pure heart.

Meanwhile Mrs. Lee, surrounded by a band of parasites, blinded by the false glare of their hectic social gatherings; intoxicated by their extravagances and luxurious tastes, came near to ruining her husband. And Jack, asking for more money to keep pace with his wife's demands, finds himself jobless and almost penniless.

Only when death threatens their little child does the mother instinct and wife instinct rise in Mrs. Lee. She is awakened as if by a dazzling light to see her folly. The silly puppets who she thought were offering her life had instead taken from her love and in its place left an emptiness that tore her very heart.

TEST OF SCHOOL LAW IS PLANNED

Suit To Be Filed in Franklin Court
Attacking Right of Legislature To Create Normal Commission.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 4.—Suit to test the right of the legislature to create a normal school commission empowered to locate the two new normal schools will be filed soon in the Franklin circuit court, it is expected. It is not known who will bring the suit, but the general supposition is that it will be filed in the name of State Auditor J. J. Craig.

Not only will the courts be called upon to decide the right of the legislature to create the commission and empower the speaker of the house and the president of the senate to name the members of the commission, but they will be asked to construe the act, in case it is held to be unconstitutional. The law gives the normal school commission the right to "establish" the schools. The commission contends that under its authority to establish the schools it is empowered to name the president and faculty of each institution. The state board of education takes an opposite view, holding that the commission is empowered only to select the sites, following which the board of education takes charge and names the president and faculty of the institutions.

New York Letter
by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York.—"Day by day in every way" it's getting harder and harder to be secretive about oneself. Ages to come will undoubtedly look back on us as the period of the picture-takers. We shall all be the most photographed creatures who ever inhabited the face of the earth. Passports were the first step. A lot of people complained at having to have their portraits attached to that document. And having seen passport photographs of several of my friends, I don't wonder at that. Then came commutes. Just a few months ago, the railroads out of New York demanded a photographic accompaniment to every communion ticket, and we had to stop borrowing and lending them in the good old, neighborly way. Now, it's pistol permits! Our Police Commissioner has just announced that hereafter every permit must be accompanied by a photograph of the bearer. Approximately 30,000 persons are licensed to carry pistols in greater New York. Chief among them are employees of banks and other financial institutions and persons engaged in hazardous occupations. Several ordinary citizens got permits last year during the crime wave, and I've even thought of it myself, but since we've learned our history becomes distorted, I am not going to have greatgrandchildren come across my portrait listed as a "pistol bearer" in some Hall of Records.

—NY—
The "Gas House District" has a fascination for all New Yorkers. Over and about old Avenue A, it is the scene of much of the distress of the metropolis, and a great deal of it's honest labor. It is in greater prominence just now because it is from that district that Governor-elect Al Smith came, and one of the proudest boasts of the Boys' Club located there is that "Al" was a member when a boy. This club was founded by the late E. H. Harriman, and it yet under the patronage of that family. All the kiddies who cannot find room in the movie auditorium of the Club go to the District Moving Picture Theater, the "Avenue A." Every mother's son was yelling himself hoarse the other night when pictures of the god Al were thrown upon the screen. And just then angry tongues of flame shot out from the operator's booth. It looked like a panic and the tune "East Side, West Side" failed to hold the youngsters in their seats. A solicitous manager got on the job, applying the pyrene extinguisher and his own soothing assurances, and "All around the town" was soon resumed by the audience. Who knows but what some other future governor was spared to our state?

—NY—
Here's one more proof of advertising. A baby in the upper end of the city toddled away from home the other day and landed, as usual, in the police stations, where the officers waited for some one to telephone and report a lost child with yellow hair and blue eyes. After four hours, no call had come. "We'll have to send her down to the Children's Society if some one doesn't appear soon," they sighed. "Say," said one rookie on the force, "Did you ever try putting 'em up in the big window. Maybe with that kind of advertising, some one might recognize her." So up went goldilocks with a pennon sign above her "LOST BABY". Sympathetic mothers stopped and looked at her regretfully, until suddenly one little girl en route from school, exclaimed, "Why there's the baby from the apartment across the hall from us." And home the lost one

There are artistic dilettantes among our burglaries as well as any of our more conventional people. Thieves who entered the home of Mrs. Thyra S. Winslow, short story writer of Kew Gardens, Long Island, the other night, proved it. They stole only a bottle of old port and a loose-leaf notebook on which Mrs. Winslow had jotted down memoranda for plots of stories.

TOT FRIGHTFULLY BITTEN
BY A DOG BELIEVED MAD.
Princeton.—The two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Weaver was severely bitten about the face, one of his lips being torn loose, by the family dog, which suddenly became savage. The dog is being confined in the belief that developments may show rables.

STEADFAST CONFIDENCE

The Following Statement Should Form Conclusive Proof of Merit
To Every Maysville Reader.

Could stronger proof of the merit of any remedy be desired than the statements of grateful endorsers who say their confidence had been undiminished by lapse of time? These are the kind of statements that are appearing constantly in your local papers for Doan's Kidney Pills. They are twice-told and confirmed, with new enthusiasm. Can any reader doubt the following? It's from a Maysville resident: Mrs. M. Holliday, 221 East Second street, says: "My back became weak and lame and ached across my kidneys. My kidneys acted irregularly and I was dizzy and had headaches. I used Doan's Kidney Pills bought at Wood & Son's Drug Store and they relieved me of the attack." (Statement given November 16th, 1916.)

On November 22, 1920, Mrs. Holliday added: "My kidneys have given me no trouble at all since using Doan's Kidney Pills. I gladly renew my former statement."

EX-SERVICE MEN MUST ENROLL SOON

Applications for Vocational Training
End December 16 Under Present Law.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 6.—A warning has been issued to former service men and women throughout the United States by Joe Sparks, chairman of the national rehabilitation committee of the American Legion, that all veterans who desire vocational training and have not made application, must do so under the present law before December 16, 1922.

Those who wait until after this date will forfeit their right of receiving government training. There are several ways in which this application can be made. The claimant may make application by writing a letter expressing a desire to apply for vocational work to any one of the bureaus located throughout the United States. It is necessary for the applicant to sign his name, so that the bureau may consider the application as made by the man himself. It is advisable for the applicant to make his application in person at one of the district or subdistrict offices of the United States Veterans' Bureau, although this is not absolutely necessary.

Forms may be obtained at any one of the bureau offices or from any of the cooperating agencies such as the American Legion, the Red Cross and other veteran organizations. These forms should be filled out, signed and forwarded to one of the veteran bureau officers. If a person is so situated that he is unable to obtain one of these forms, a letter will be accepted as an application.

RACE WITH DEATH

That's what Priscilla Dean did in "The Conflict" at the Pastime this afternoon, tonight and tomorrow, with a mighty roar the dam blew up and the mighty waters rushed down the ravine carrying thousands of logs and Priscilla Dean to an almost sure death. Never was there such a race as that between the maid and the maddest waters; never before was so thrilling a scene acted on the screen at the Pastime. The picture makes the audience hold their breath and fairly takes them out of their seats when they see the dare devil woman leap from log to log as they go rushing, crushing, with the violent torrent down the ravine, taking everything in their path. Every Maysillian who loves a real feature ought not overlook "The Conflict."

WALTER P. STAMP
GIVEN FIFTEEN YEARS.
Louisville, Ky., Dec. 5.—Walter P. Stamp, once sentenced to die for the murder of W. Smith Russell, whom he declared had wrecked his home, was sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary by the twelve men who have listened for the past week to his second trial, obtained on appeal from the previous verdict.

The verdict of guilty, which sentence fixed at fifteen years, came after eight hours deliberation of the jurymen.
